

SAYS WHEELER SURPRISED THAT PLACE WAS RAIDED

Witness said he was subsequently told that Martin had escaped, but had been arrested in Calgary.

"He does not Points."

Ex-Deputy Chief Samuel Wright was next called. He said he knew that Martin was wanted on a charge on which he had been down for 10 years and was out on bail of $200. When he heard of his arrest in Calgary he suggested sending a man down to Calgary to bring him back, but Mr. Hetherington said he would not be arrested before the time was up when he was supposed to appear. Detective Shaw told him that he did not think there would be much to the case, as he thought the complainant would not appear.

Detective Shaw stated that Martin was known under the names of John Martin, John Marcus, "New John," and "Two Points."

Rutherford told Constable Gregor that Williams wanted to settle with him, and when he told him to bring Rutherford to him, he advised him that Rutherford should take the money and turn it over to him (Detective Shaw).

Mr. Bigger: Did Martin have four diamond rings on him when arrested in Calgary?

Witness: I don't know anything about that. Chief Cuddy wired us that he had on him a gold watch and a watch chain and a ring in it.

Did you think he would break his ball?—I thought, from the man's record, he might not turn up. I did not know at that time that his ball was.

Mr. Williams was recalled.

Mr. Bigger: You heard what Mr. Rutherford said?

Witness: Yes; and I absolutely deny it.

Detective Bryant was next called, but was not in attendance.

Mr. A. Mackay, attorney, was then called and stated that he had been to court on Martin's behalf at the request of Williams. He did not know how the ball was fixed, and in fact he understood that the ball was not.

Williams told Martin and Williams he would not run after Magistrate Massee on Saturday afternoon, as it was a half holiday.

Inspector Higgin was then called. He produced the record of Martin's arrest on May 20.

Roulette Wheel Missing.

Witness said he was in charge of a squad told to go to 135 Queen's avenue to take gambling paraphernalia.

Asked what he found, he replied: "A dozen chairs, two tables."

Mr. Bigger: A roulette table?

Witness: Yes; a roulette table, with the wheel.

Instructions were given to have the paraphernalia locked away in the store room.

Mr. Bigger: The valuable part of a roulette table is the wheel with its paraphernalia.

Witness: Yes.

And that was not there?—It was not there.

Did you see Wheeler there?—No.

Was there anybody there?—We saw the proprietor of the apartments, Chinaman. He was downstairs in the restaurant. The premises were locked up.

Detective Shaw, recalled, was asked as to his statement to Deputy Chief Wright that he did not know Rutherford had a gambling place.

He said this and said he thought Rutherford would be bought off, and he thought they should get a warrant and bring him back to make him go through with his case.

First Street Raid.

Detective Bryant was recalled. He was examined by A. E. Ewing, K.C., as to the raid on the premises next to the Dominion club.

He said that at this point left the court room to have a consultation with Chief of Police Hill in the judge's private room.

Bryant told the court that he heard a ball or two before the raid that gambling was going on there, but he did not know exactly where the premises were located. He did not know if the ball was a roulette ball.

Witness was told that there was a roulette wheel and "black jack."

His informant did not know what was on the roulette wheel.

EDMONTON DAILY CAPITAL
OFFICE OF PUBLICATION—DAILY CAPITAL BLDG., 623-625 SECOND ST.HOME SECRETARY
MCKENNA'S SCHEME

That the sinews of war consist of money is the theory of Home Secretary McKenna, and he has a scheme to apply it to the suffragettes and weaken the militant movement by cutting off the financial resources of the wild women. His theory has been proved good in other cases and has worked out satisfactorily, but in this case it seems difficult to find a practical way to test it out. It is generally believed that the bank accounts of the militants are safe from seizure and confiscation because they are in foreign countries. Now the plan to punish those who give to the cause of militancy and thereby discourage it, will be feasible only if the government can discover who the donors are.

The last raid of the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union placed a long list of subscribers in the hands of the authorities, but these persons cannot be prosecuted for what they have hitherto done, and surely the Parkhursts will not be so stupid as to leave any future records lying around to compromise and injure their financial backers if monetary contributions are put under the ban.

Considerable depends also on the amount of truth in the contention of the militants that their arsonists and other outlaws are zealots rather than hired braves and that these carry on their work whether they are paid or not. If the assumption of the government is true that the criminal women commit their outrages merely for hire, then a cutting off of financial backing would have the same blighting effect on the militant cause that lack of coin has on an ordinary Mexican uprising of bandits. Has it been satisfactorily proven that this is the case? The enemies of militancy have long declared it is money alone which makes the constantly recurring outrages possible, but whatever may be the sentiments of cold, calculating leaders there seems to be no doubt among the rank and file of the suffragettes are many women to whom militancy is a religion for which they will destroy all that is sacred and holy and valuable to the outside world. Either this, or they are among the most degraded and hardened mercenaries the modern world has known.

LAURIER WINS
DESERVED PRAISE

A recent issue of the Montreal Star contained the following: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his forty long years of service in the common, has conquered the esteem, the respect, the admiration of his fellow-countrymen of every party, race and creed. His has been a remarkable career from the first, and whatever the future may yet unfold, he has already won for himself a secure place as a member of the great company who have been the nation-builders of the Dominion." The above undoubtedly was written in all sincerity, the conviction being all the deeper because of what has transpired since the hand of the nation-builder was arrested and rendered temporarily impotent as a consequence of an agitation in which our Montreal contemporary played a prominent part. The Star probably has learned by dear-bought experience, as most of us have, that it would have been well for the country had the man to whom it pays tribute, and who furnished evidence during the term he was in power that he had learned something during his forty years' experience, been given an opportunity to complete his work. If there were a premier in power today in whom the people have implicit confidence there would be no reason for the many appeals being published in the press for the public to take heart of grace and have confidence in the future of the country.

NEW CONDITIONS IN
NAVAL WARFARE

If Sir Percy Scott is right that naval warfare has been completely revolutionized by the introduction of the submarine and the aeroplane that the Dreadnought is now useless, Canadians will have reason to be thankful for the defeat of Mr. Borden's naval bill, which would have committed them to an expenditure of $35,000,000 on a type of vessel which will soon have no place in an efficient naval force. It may be well to recall at the same time that this mistake would have been avoided by the development of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's original plan which provided for a Canadian naval service with the smaller craft whose efficiency is not in question. Sir Wilfrid's policy was also recommended by the additional merit that it would have provided a growing force of trained men who would have been available to man whatever craft might be deemed effective.

INCREASED STOCK
RAISING

One of the remarkable changes which is today taking place in the prairie provinces is the great increase in the raising by the agriculturist of farm stock—cattle, sheep, hogs. While the area under grain in these provinces is stated to be from two to twelve per cent greater than it had been in any previous year, that alone does not indicate the advance which is being made by the prairie farmers. Stimulated by the high prices prevailing for all kinds of farm stock, or by this operating in conjunction with other considerations, such as the inadvisability of the agriculturist carrying all "his eggs to the market in one basket," by the combined influence of the Dominion and the provincial governments, and the railways, the agriculturist there is now giving his attention increasingly to this branch of the industry.

MILITARY ENTERPRISES ARE COSTING DOUBLE

In 1910-11, the last full fiscal year in which the late Liberal government was responsible for the administration of Canadian affairs, the expenditure for militia purposes was $7,099,822. This year, the Borden government proposes to spend between $14,000,000 and $15,000,000 for military purposes. In the three years since it took office, the government has practically doubled the expenditures of public money upon unproductive military enterprises.

The Adventures of Kathlyn
By Harold MacGrath.

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS. Kathlyn Hare, believing her father, Col. Bruce, to be dead, has come to go to him in Almata, India. Umballah, pretender to the throne, named by the late king as his son, has been made King of Almata. Kathlyn, in Almata, Kathlyn is informed that Umballah is the real king and that she is the queen. An elaborate drama follows, Kathlyn protesting and grief stricken, the crown is placed upon her head. Umballah, however, has been informed that Kathlyn has made a strong appeal to the people to free him from his prison, and that he is not fit to rule. He is told that no woman may rule unmarried, but because this young queen has been born of a virgin, Umballah decides she will be given seven days to do as she pleases.

When Kathlyn retires, at the expiration of the week of grace, her father, Col. Bruce, arrives. He has been in India, fighting for Umballah, to prove to the supreme tribunal that she is to undergoes the ceremony of marriage to Umballah, and that she is to be permitted to rule with him.

Through the pluck and resourcefulness of John Bruce, an American and fellow countryman of Kathlyn, Umballah is induced to release Kathlyn to Almata, and who has come to see the young queen. Kathlyn is informed that the two orphans, with Bruce, flee from Almata. The elephant which carries Kathlyn to Almata, however, is captured by Umballah, who, separating her from Bruce and the rest of the party, imprisons them.

After a ride filled with peril she takes refuge in a ruined temple, where she is joined by a priestess, Rani, her mother, who has been captured by Umballah. Kathlyn's haven is also the home of the old sage, Rishi, who, with the sage's help, she frees the two orphans.

Bruce and his friends effect the release of the two orphans, and then, in an attempt to reacquire them, it is unsuccessful, and the fugitives are given shelter in the temple. Kathlyn, however, is captured by Umballah, who, in his rage, imprisons her in a sacred fire. But Kathlyn's haven is also the home of the old sage, Rishi, who, with the sage's help, she frees the two orphans.

DUCKING IN LAKE LATEST TREATMENT TO SUFFRAGETTES

Police Have Busy Time Quelling Newest Amusement of London Crowds

FINALLY RESORT TO USE OF TRUNCHEONS

Trouble Arises Over Interpretations of Lloyd George's Recent Speech

London, June 22.—A noisy artificial lake gave a big crowd an unique opportunity to vent their wrath on suffragist interlopers of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the exchequer, who spoke at Denmark Hill, in the south of London, but chivalrous discrimination was employed as between the men and women disturbers.

"Next week," said "there will be no ducking in the lake," the lake being half of the reservoir, a lake which will give every county in Ulster the option of voting itself out of home rule until two general elections have been held in the country. "The need and power to drill and threaten to shoot anybody in order to escape home rule. If they don't want it, all they have to do is to go to the ballot boxes and vote themselves out of it."

With reference to the indefinite exclusion of Ulster, Chancellor Lloyd George said that Ulster would be safe if General Sir Edward Carson, leader, in order to defeat home rule for the rest of Ireland, as well as Ulster. For that reason, the government would not accept it.

London, June 22.—Sir Edward Carson, addressing an anti-home rule meeting held Saturday evening at the Royal Albert Hall, strongly repudiated the government's offer of the optional exclusion of Ulster from home rule for six years, he would have nothing to do with it.

London, June 22.—Suffragette hailing has become the regular Sunday amusement of the London crowds. The police were kept busy during yesterday afternoon in Hyde Park, protecting the women and compelling them to safety. The disorders finally became serious and the police were obliged to use their truncheons to disperse the rioters.

With the hope that he had fallen other disturbances, he demanded in stentorian tones to know why the government had given the women a hearing, when it seemed to him that to induce the effect in the crowd that a red flag does on a mad bull. They rushed and carried him off to the station and pitched him into the lake, from which, after frequent complete immersions, he was rescued in half-drowned condition by a man in a boat.

During the course of his address the chancellor made it clear that the incoming bill which will be introduced in the house of lords on Tuesday, simply to re-enact the government's original offer of the temporary exclusion

Will Hospital Ship.

Glasgow, June 22.—The British admiral Saturday decided to abandon the hospital ship Maine, presented to the British navy by the American Red Cross, after the South African war, which went ashore on June 17 in the Firth of Forth, on the west coast of Scotland. It was the opinion of the officials that the average weight of the crew of the Maine would be more than the value of the vessel.

Bound For Far North.

Edmonton, June 22.—Inspector Heriot, who is to take charge of the mounted police station at Chesterfield Inlet, left Regina on Saturday. He will make a short stay at Ottawa, and then travel to the Arctic on a special boat to the northern post. His party consists of Sergeant Caulkin and constables Kennedy and Pauly.

As to the story that General Carranza has deposed General Angeles as secretary of war, I know nothing."

TAKE MOVIES OF GENUINE BATTLE IN MEXICAN WAR

Indian Soldiers Fight and Kill Like Animals—Hand-to-Hand Engagement

EMPEROR THEATER TO SHOW PICTURES HERE

One of Trio in City—Another Jailed—Third Likely Shot as Spy

Mr. Trub, a mechanical engineer, who is passing through Edmonton on his way from the coast to Montreal, this morning received a telegram from the Emperor, who has gone through while taking photographs for the El Paso Film company, of the Mexican battle at the Well Site.

The battle was absolutely awful, states Mr. Trub, but the aftermath was even worse. They laid the dead victims together in a pile and set them on fire. The pictures show the whole proceedings and the black, charred mass that was left. They also show Dr. Pryor, who was drowning before he got a chance to get out of the place, it was stated that they were taken amid such favorable surroundings that the officers can be dismissed.

During the battle one side ran out of ammunition and a hand-to-hand fight was ordered. Altogether Mr. Trub tells a most graphic story of the whole affair, which he has never told before and it was afterwards learned that a man answering his description exactly had been captured and shot as a spy. Dr. Pryor was also captured and confined for two months in a single stretch.

The soldiers of the Mexicans are furious haters of photographers and newspaper men. They believe that the taking pictures is a way of getting them off their backs, often shoot them, destroying thousands of feet of valuable film.

Mr. Trub declares that, outside of Villa, any other lessening of hostilities would cause him so as to be able to sell it to the highest bidder.

surgical equipment, and the three secured a position in one of the trenches.

What they saw during the engagement Mr. Trub says, was horrible. It was not a picture as he had ever seen. Most of the soldiers were Indians or Indian half-breeds and yelled and whooped like wolves during the battle, fighting like madmen.

The battle itself was absolutely awful, states Mr. Trub, but the aftermath was even worse. They laid the dead victims together in a pile and set them on fire. The pictures show the whole proceedings and the black, charred mass that was left. They also show Dr. Pryor, who was drowning before he got a chance to get out of the place, it was stated that they were taken amid such favorable surroundings that the officers can be dismissed.

Boys Prove Death Trap

Synapse, N. Y., June 22.—An investigation of the launch accident which resulted in the drowning of 12 people in the Ossipee River last night is being held today before the commissioners of Coroners Moore.

There were twenty persons on the boat and it was reported today that the craft was loaded with more than the maximum number of passengers. It was raining at the time of the accident and the canvas curtains had been pulled down and buttoned securely so that the boat proved a death trap for its passengers.

Their fondest hopes in the moving pictures, to take so as to get the best pictures, was to have Dr. Pryor offer his services as a surgeon, for, after a successful and interesting trip, he had become interested in getting clear pictures of a real battle, in which over 1,000 were killed.

The pictures, it happens, will be shown at the Empress Theater this week, and Manager H. B. Hazzard of that theater has secured the services of Mr. Trub to be present when the pictures are shown, to answer any questions as to the engagements. Mr. Trub can speak English, German, French and Italian.

These will be the first pictures of a real battle ever taken, a sham-battle in which the fighters fought with their might for dear life, over shown in this program.

Dr. Trub had a letter of introduction to General Curtis, through whom he afterwards became known to many other leaders on both sides in the Mexican revolution, including Villa, the virtual dictator of the war, who Mr. Trub states is the only leader in the whole outfit, on either side, who fights as a patriot and not for money.

At the time of the accident, which occurred, came off a doctor, Dr. Pryor, who had offered his services as a surgeon. He had a supply of bandages and other

APPLICATION IS MADE TO STOP POLICE INQUIRY

Wheeler, Turner and Chevrier Present Affidavits Through Solicitors.

JUSTICE TO HEAR SAME ON WEDNESDAY

Claim Evidence Is Being Obtained to Be Used Against Them in Courts.

An application will be made before a judge (probably Chief Justice Harvey) in Supreme Court chambers Wednesday next, June 24, at 10:30 A.M. for a writ of habeas corpus, issued in the name of the attorney general, prohibiting him from taking any further proceedings in the police investigation now proceeding.

The application will be made at the instance of William Wheeler, James Walker, Turner and Hector Chevrier, Justice Beck today heard the claims of the attorney general for a writ of habeas corpus and ordered that the affidavits made by the applicants should be served on Justice Scott, O. M. Bigras, Wm. Ewing and the Mayor of Edmonton.

The grounds upon which the application will be made are as follows:

First: That he has no jurisdiction over the same.

Second: That he has unlawfully usurped and doth still usurp the rights to inquire into the conduct of persons charged or likely to be charged with criminal offences (not being officers or employees of the police) and usurps the rights of the ordinary course of law to inquire into criminal offences.

Third: That the Legislature of the Province of Alberta has no power to delegate its authority in any event in the matter of parliamentary investigation into conduct of persons charged or incorporated.

Fourth: And upon the grounds disclosed in the affidavits of James Walker, Turner, William Wheeler, and Hector Chevrier.

And in the alternative that an injunction be issued to restrain further prosecution of the said investigation in the name of the police.

The affidavits have been sworn before Frank L. Day, commissioner, Frank L. Day, commissioner, and the affidavits are as follows:

"I have followed the newspaper reports of the investigation and as I have been able to read the same, the said investigation has been carried on with a view of securing, as I believe, some evidence against me and that I may be charged with some criminal offence."

"I have been served with a subpoena to give further evidence in the said police inquiry or investigation, and a view of securing, as I believe, some evidence upon which I and others may be charged with criminal offence."

"I have been served with a subpoena to give evidence, and I believe that the purpose of the said subpoena is to inflict from me facts which might incriminate others and not with a view of securing information."

"I believe that without the granting of an order preventing further steps in the inquiry that I shall be prejudiced, irreparably damaged and that the interests of the public at large shall not be served."

ESKIMOS TAKE BOTH ENDS DOUBLE HEADER—LEAVING CELLAR POSITION

Bronks Were the Victims 13 to 2 and 10 to 6—Umpire Wheeler Almost Mobbed by Hostile Fans—Kraft and Chapman Did the Pitching.

Calgary, June 22.—The scene enacted here three years ago in the U.S. when the Eskimos were caged to the last after five from whence he held interviews with the angry fans through a knot-hole, was almost duplicated here on Saturday night following the calling of the double header. The only difference being that there was no knot-hole in the new ticket office. Wheeler had to be in the office when he was surrounded by a mob of hostile fans who almost tore down the office in order to get at the unpopular umpire. Finally he was escorted from the grounds by two able-bodied guardians of the law.

The game was called at the end of the seventh and it happened that Calgary had just been to get their share of the money of interest in either contest. The Eskimos grabbed both ends of the double-header from the Bronks, the afternoon affair by the score of 13 to 2 and the evening game 10 to 6.

Presentation By The EDMONTON CAPITAL

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hand the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

Presentation By The EDMONTON CAPITAL

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer on International subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hand the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views which illustrate practically every page of this exhaustive book.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color processes on specially made paper.

The Panama Canal, the greatest engineering achievement of the world's history, cost more than $400,000,000

It links the two greatest oceans, and becomes the most important factor in peace and war. So where is the red-blooded inhabitant of this globe that does not feel vitally interested in it? Truly it is the wonder of this progressive age!

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN CONCERN NEAR
MONARCH LOCATION

Big Rush on Prairie Diamond, With Leases on Four Sides of Producer

SEGUR JUMPS AGAIN—
OTHERS SOAR WITH IT

Beaumont Fifty Cents Wednesdays—Another Big Find Reported Near Clyde.

This week promises to be a busy one in the oil fields, and it may start out as one of the best for the buyers and sellers of stock yet.

Those companies having locations near the Monarch well show the greatest activity, and this morning when teamsters and drivers from all parts of the state threw Prairie Diamond stock on the market, crowds eagerly picked it up at the cent—per barrel.

Altogether the concern owns 2,200 acres of leases and the capital stock is now $40,000. The sales agents announce that $15,000 will be sold per barrel, and the balance will be held in escrow per barrel.

Has Segur Made Strike?

One of the other interesting features of the oil field is the great activity in May and June—last year. Last week this stock was quoted at $1.350. Towards the end of the week it went to $1.800, and this morning on the Calgary market it was quoted at $2.00.

"They have struck oil, alright," stated a broker this morning. "It is a close corporation and they don't want to give away their secret."

This option seemed to be pretty widely held, and stocks of companies close by experienced a decided flurry.

Particulars—Stevens, Union Pacific and Piedmont.

It was announced at Calgary that drilling would begin again at the Monarch well, but the event is considered of such importance that the drillers took the trip out to the well over land roads to see what is going to happen.

Another interesting bit of oil news from Calgary is to the effect that a group of Calgarians have filed on large areas of land south of the Birch Lake area, near Rafton on the C. N. R., where there was such heavy drilling last week.

Some of the oil fields in and near Castor, and there is a joke going the round this morning about Alberta's soon becoming a producer of Caster oil.

The Alberta oil field is not nearly as important as the Monarch and the 25 cent issue will be the last day to get that stock at $1.350.

A drilling outfit has been ordered by the company, but it has not yet been decided whether to drill in the Monarch area or in the oil fields.

The oil fields northwest of this city shows indications of being extended, and at least one syndicate has secured a lease on a large choice location near Castor, on the Athabasca branch of the Canadian Northern.

George Nicholson, a member of the Greek-Canadian Club, is a member of the oil field syndicate that has secured a lease from the north last week with samples of crude petroleum oil obtained at a location 46 miles north of the city, near Custer.

Mr. Nicholson reports having a geologist and engineer on the ground for the past week, and that every inspection of oil is assured. "I left Edmonton on May 6th," he said, "in company with an engineer to look over some ground northwest of the city.

The statements as given to the police by the woman and the girl threaten to revel some very startling facts and accusations, and it is to be expected that the names of several prominent business men of the city have been handed to the authorities in connection with the case.

Mr. George C. Foster, a former knight bachelor named Lionel Dawson, the explorer.

titles of nobility in the British army, of the British Empire, were announced last night as the novel feature of the king's birthday honor.
